In Recognition of

International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination

Presents

“A Place at the Table: The American Dream”

Wednesday ~ March 21, 2012 1-3 PM & 7-9 PM

“In the end anti-black, anti-female, and all forms of discrimination are equivalent to the same thing - anti-humanism.”

~Shirley Chisholm

The International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination is observed annually on March 21st. Racial and ethnic discrimination occur on a daily basis, hindering progress for millions of people around the world. Racism and intolerance can take on various forms: from denying individuals the basic principles of equality to fuelling ethnic hatred that may lead to genocide, all of which can destroy lives and fracture communities. The Center is screening “A Place at the Table: The American Dream”. The documentary looks at the pain caused by hatred and injustice in our nation's history as told by youths of different races and cultures that refused to allow their own humanity to be diminished by others. They discuss the struggles, sacrifices, solidarity, triumphs and tribulations that their ancestors had to endure so that they could have better opportunities so that they may have a place at the American table.
