2 Screenings

1 PM & 7 PM

The International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination is observed annually on March 21st. Racial and ethnic discrimination occur on a daily basis, hindering progress for millions of people around the world. Racism and intolerance can take on various forms: from denying individuals the basic principles of equality to fueling ethnic hatred that may lead to genocide, all of which can destroy lives and fracture communities. The Center is screening the 90 minute film, "The Color of Fear" by director, Lee Mun Wah, a nationally-acclaimed lecturer on diversity. Lee Mun Wah is a Chinese American who in his film, "The Color of Fear", brings together North American, African American, Latino, Asian American and Caucasian men for a dialogue about the state of race relations in America through their eyes. Because of his work and contribution to the Elimination of Racial Discrimination and dialogue on race the Center will be honoring Mr. Mun Wah at our 2011 Juneteenth Ally Award Luncheon on June 18th.
